

Daniel Marmorstein

Editor: NHL

Weekly Contributor: LA Kings Hockey

The Los Angeles Kings are off to a solid start to the 2024-2025 NHL season in the Pacific division. The Kings made some adjustments over the offseason trading centre Pierre Luc Dubois straight up for goaltender Darcy Kuemper from the Capitals. Kuempers has had some tenure in the net for the Avalanche in their championship run in 2022. Kuemper has started the season hot and keeps the hope alive in La as they look to add a 3rd championship banner in the rafters of Crypto arena. The Kings have 5 important games coming up on their schedule this week, especially November 13th against Kuempers old team the Colorado Avalanche.