Premier League Updates

Five matches into the season, Manchester City are setting the pace. They're the only side within the league with a perfect record: five wins from five, 15 points, and a +8 goal difference. Arsenal sit second with 12 points with four wins and one loss, so they're the closest challengers. Brighton are the most entertaining team in the top three. They've scored a league-high 16 goals and own the best goal difference at +11, which has them in third with 10 points. Brentford follow close behind in fourth with 9 points, ahead of Leeds, Liverpool, and Everton on goal difference. All four of those sides are still unbeaten, with two wins and three draws each, so only a few goals separate them from the top four. Hull and Newcastle are level with 8 points, with Hull holding the better goal difference (+2 to 0). Chelsea are in 10th with 7 points. Their 12 goals conceded are the most of any club in the top 10, making defense an ongoing struggle for them.
