This week the nightlife of San Francisco is jam packed with all kinds of EDM from house music, dubstep, techno and progressive house. This week's venues are one the biggest names in the city from Temple Nightclub, 1015 Folsom, F8 and a couple of other smaller nightclubs and even a hotel terrace. Wednesday September 20th, an American house DJ will be in town from New Jersey who goes by the name Junior Sanchez. He is well known for his house music beats from sounds from all over the world. He'll be playing at F8 Bar and Nightclub from 9pm-3am.

Thursday the 21st is packed with an array of music, but the top name is a duo from Germany, FJAAK. They will provide a night of European techno at 1015 Folsom from 9pm to 3am. The weekend starts with Crankdat on Friday the 22nd, who is a dubstep dj who has been going to the biggest festivals around the world. He'll be at Temple SF from 10pm- 2am, the last names of the weekend, Etienne de Crecy and Boombass, two dj's who provide vibes and chill music perfect for their rooftop performances. You can catch these two at Phoenix Hotel right in the center of the city. To stay up to date with San Francisco's EDM nightlife, come back next week to the Dominican Beat.
