

Dominican University Brings Holiday Cheer with Christmas Tree at Angelico

Edited by Brooke Vafi

Dominican Student services

This holiday season, Dominican University of California is spreading festive cheer and uniting its diverse student body with a beautifully decorated Christmas tree placed in front of Angelico Hall. The tree, adorned with twinkling lights has become a central gathering spot for students, staff, and faculty, offering a moment of joy.

For many students, the tree has quickly become a symbol of connection, inviting everyone to take a break from their studies and come together in the spirit of the season. "I think it's a wonderful way to bring us all together," said America Vizcaino, a senior at Dominican University. "No matter where we come from or what we celebrate, the tree reminds us that we're all part of this university family."